

Are Health Care Providers and Substitute Decision-makers Required to Follow the Wishes of the Individual?

Yes. If the expressed wishes are relevant to the situation at hand and were expressed when the individual was capable (the individual understood and appreciated the nature and consequences of the decision) and over the age of 16, they should be followed. This has been established in case law.

Is Everyone Required to do Advance Care Planning?

No. There is no legal requirement for individuals to complete Advance Care Planning (either to express their choices or to appoint a substitute decision-maker). Admission to a facility or access to health care cannot be denied based on the absence of Advance Care Planning.

There is no minimum age of consent in Ontario. If the individual is capable as described above, he/she is able to consent (or refuse to consent) to a treatment or plan of care.

When does an Advance Care Choice come into Effect?

Choices expressed through Advance Care Planning only come into effect when an individual is no longer capable of making a specific decision for himself or herself.

Donations to St. Joseph's Lifecare Foundation (the official fundraising organization for St. Joseph's Lifecare Centre), have brought this beautiful building to life. Our community has funded vital long-term care programs and services, purchased resident medical equipment, furnishings, therapeutic gardens and everything in between.

Ongoing donations are vital to ensure that our residents get the most enhanced, compassionate care they need and deserve!

Advance Care Planning

Making sure that my future health care choices will be respected in the event that I am no longer able to make decisions

ADVANCE CARE PLANNING

Alice Conrad has a history of strokes in her family. She has strong opinions about how she would like to be cared for if she were to experience a serious stroke.

Sean O'Reilly has lived a fiercely independent life. Although he is 90 years old and has recently been diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease, he lives in his own home and wants to continue to do so, despite concerns raised by his children about his safety.

Lilly Palma is a woman of strong religious convictions and believes that "where there's life, there's hope." If she were to become comatose, she would want to continue receiving life-sustaining treatments.

In each of the above scenarios, the individual has expressed a number of wishes about the kind of health and personal care they wish to receive in a future situation of incapacity.

Healthcare providers may encounter individuals who have already engaged in Advance Care Planning or may be called upon to assist individuals in this activity. This guide outlines some key information that healthcare consumers and providers need to know and provides a list of additional resources.

What is Advance Care Planning?

Advance Care Planning is about individuals expressing personal choices about how they wish to be cared for in the future. It may also include appointing someone to make decisions on their behalf.

Why is Advance Care Planning Important?

There may come a time when an individual is unable to make decisions for him or herself. The inability to make decisions for oneself may happen suddenly, as with a serious stroke, or gradually, as with dementia. Advance Care Planning can help to ensure that individuals receive the kind of care they want. Having made decisions in advance may also help to reduce the stress for family members and healthcare providers in times of crisis.

What Kinds of Choices can be Made?

Individuals can make choices about any personal care matter including healthcare, food, living arrangements, clothing, hygiene, and safety. Advance Care Planning does not include financial and property decisions. Financial and property decisions are managed through a different process.

How can these Choices be Communicated?

An individual can express her/his wishes verbally, in an audio or videotape, or in any written form. The wishes should be expressed to the individual's substitute decision-maker. Individuals may also choose to communicate their wishes to other family members, their doctor, close friends or their lawyer.

If an individual wishes to name someone to be his/her Attorney for Personal Care this must be done in writing (please refer to Quick Guide to Powers of Attorney for Personal Care for additional information).

Can Individuals Change their Minds About their Choices?

Yes. The most recently expressed capable wish (whether verbal or written) is to be followed.

What is the Difference Between an Advance Directive, a Living Will and a Power of Attorney for Personal Care?

In an Advance Care Directive or Living Will, an individual documents her/his wishes. A Power of Attorney for Personal Care may also be used to do this, and in addition it includes the appointment of an individual(s) to be the person's substitute decision-maker.
